

Celebrate Holidays when you can

We aren't strict on the actual dates when holidays are celebrated. Different people are in different situations and sometimes the holiday occurs at the wrong time. Sometimes, the day the holiday falls on isn't the best day to celebrate it. Sometimes you just have to wait for good weather or a day off. So, feel free to move the dates around to suit your schedule. Celebrating a holiday on the following weekend is often the best choice.