

Ordaining Church Clergy - Beacons

The Church of Reality is not one of those churches that passes out ministries by mail order like the Universal Life Church. To become a {In:Beacon} you have to get the consensus of the Council of Realists. You first have to be a Monk of the Order of Root and you need to start a project of some sort that is doing some sort of work that requires clergy status. This kind of work might include weddings, funerals, counseling, visiting prison inmates, youth programs, or speaking to groups on behalf of the church. Clergy status is granted to those people who are actually doing something or close to doing something where clergy status is required or will significantly enhance the performing of the project duties.
