

Government Accountable to the People

- Government has a duty to be open and accountable to the people. Government exists only to serve the people and for no other purpose. The people have the right to expect honesty, integrity and respect from government officials.

- The right and duty of the people to rise up against oppression shall be preserved